

In the Advanced Placement United States History Course, students will learn how to evaluate primary and secondary source materials as well as how to weigh the evidence and interpretations presented in historical scholarship. This course will also teach students how to develop the skills necessary to arrive at conclusions on the basis of informed judgment and how to present their ideas clearly and persuasively. While this course focuses on the history of the United States, it is also heavily geared toward helping students become twenty-first century learners by preparing them for college and their future careers.
